Foreword

"Put your past behind you," is an old saying. The three years we have spent at Plattsburgh State Normal would be very difficult to "put behind us." The friends we have made, the hours we have worked and played are too deeply embedded in our living minds and bodies to be thrust so lightly aside. With the publication of this year's CARDINAL, we hope to keep some small measure of our life at Plattsburgh alive and intact—a cherished memory.

Dedication

We, the class of 1938, dedicate this twenty-fourth volume of the CARDINAL to Mr. Lyndon R. Street with the hope that it will show our appreciation of his able direction of the music department of Plattsburgh State Normal School. It is our desire that this book may in a small way bear witness to his thirteen years of loyal and efficient service as teacher and friend of Plattsburgh students.

Reply to Dedication

To the class of 1938:

My friends, you have come to a "turn in the road." Before each of you there stretches a long road—the highway of life itself. Your training and general preparation will aid you in making a start upon this, but if you wish to make greater progress it will be necessary that you continually supplement the knowledge already gained. After all, the profit and pleasure you receive from your journey will depend largely upon yourselves.

Life's road will have its rough and its smooth places, and obstacles will appear along your route. Your passing over the rough stretches and your overcoming the obstacles will make you stronger men and women. Therefore, it is paramount that we continue to study, to experiment, to understand, to live abreast of these ever-changing conditions.

The professional spirit which animates the successful teacher is essentially one of service. Your work here has been characterized by expression of that spirit and of that dynamic urge. To seek after that which is better is difficult; to guide others to that same end is more hazardous. Let us not be discouraged in our faith. May the goals you have set for yourselves and your daily practice grow more and more completely harmonious as you progress in your work. Give your very best to mankind and enjoy the satisfaction that the giving of real service brings.

*"Give to the world the best you have
And the best will come back to you."*

My sincere wish is that each of you may be happy and successful.

LYNDON R. STREET.

Appreciation

DR. EDWARD E. REDCAY

Webster states that appreciation is the just valuation or recognition of worth. We take this opportunity to express our recognition of the worth of a man who has guided us with keen wisdom, both as a class and as individuals, over the difficult places of our last two years at Plattburgh State Normal School. We know of no reward which will show our true appreciation of his services to us, but we shall always remember the friendship and guidance he has given us.

Appreciation

MRS. FLORENCE MILLER MASON

Whose careful guidance and advice was of great help to the class of '38 during our freshman and junior years. We will always remember her as one of our friends. We hope her memories of our class are as joyful as ours of her, and we wish her much happiness in the years to come.

Greetings

FROM

Dr. Ward

The class of 1938 begins its public service in a world torn with conflicting ideologies. Abroad there is a spectre of dictatorship; at home the confusion of a new people struggling to achieve a democratic destiny. Whatever the future may be, you and I are committed to the principle that each and every child assigned to our care shall have opportunity for the development and expression of his abilities. We are dedicated further to the ideal that only through the use and direction of individual abilities for the benefit of all can the democratic vision come to realization.

For three years the class of 1938 has participated in the life of the Plattsburgh State Normal School. Our successes and failures have been shared together. Because of you, our school has a richer experience in democratic living to offer those who come after you. As alumni you will share increasingly in the realization of our hopes for Plattsburgh. Our best wishes, as well as the spirit itself of your alma mater, go with you.

Student Congress

The Student Congress consists of nine members chosen from the House of Delegates. Its main function is to act as an advisory group to the House of Delegates. The officers of the House act in the same capacity to the Congress. These nine members are divided into three committees of three members each. They are the Assembly Program Committee, whose duty is to set the dates for the assemblies given by the various organizations throughout the year; the Social Committee which plans and supervises parties and dances given under school management; the name of the third committee, Student-Guidance Committee, implies its duties.

Secretary—CASSIE SCHRYER

The House of Delegates, composed of members from every school organization, is the policy-forming group for the student body of Plattsburgh Normal School.

Each organization elects one representative and one alternate from its members. In addition four seniors, two juniors and one freshman are elected by their respective classes. The faculty also appoints two juniors and two freshmen to the delegate body.

This organization's main function is to serve as a clearing house for all problems that arise which affect the student body as a whole. After discussion and voting the action is taken to the principal of the school for final approval.

A Chivalric Creed

I carry my adornments on my soul.
I do not dress up like a popinjay,
But inwardly, I keep my daintiness.
I do not bear with me, by any chance,
An insult not yet washed away—a conscience
Yellow with unpurged bile—an honor frayed
To rags, a set of scruples badly worn,
I go caparisoned in gems unseen,
Trailing white plumes of freedom garlanded
With my good name—no figure of a man.
But a soul clothed in shining armor, hung
With deeds for decorations, twirling—thus—
A bristling wit, and swinging at my side
Courage, and on the stones of this old town
Making the sharp truth ring, like golden spurs!

“Cyrano De Bergerac,” Act I.

Yes, all my laurels you have riven away
And all my roses: yet in spite of you,
There is one crown I bear away with me.
And tonight, when I enter before God,
My salute shall sweep all the stars away
From the blue threshold! One thing without stain,
Unspotted from the world, in spite of doom
Mine own!—And that is My white plume

“Cyrano De Bergerac,” Act V.

In Memoriam

EDWARD McGANN

When a friend has passed on, what he was and did for us does not pass but lives on within us, and we, in turn, pass these things on to those who come after us. It is thus that a man lives on forever. If today we find ourselves a little finer, a little nobler, it is because our friend, Ed. McGann, was fine and noble. His memory will live, a cherished host, deep in the pyx of our hearts.

Senior Class History

The class of 1938 is about to graduate. When we entered Plattsburgh State Normal School in September, 1935, little did we think that three years would pass so quickly. As freshmen, we soon adjusted ourselves and, under the guidance of Dean Florence Mason, elected our class officers: President, Maurice Ste. Marie; vice-president, Marie Thompson; secretary, Yvonne Boire; treasurer, Walter Thompson. In February we sponsored the annual Mid-year Ball, which was a great success. In May we held a freshman class banquet and dance at the Cumberland Hotel, our class being the first to sponsor such an event. Succeeding classes have followed this plan.

September, 1936, we returned, happy juniors, ready for work. We welcomed the new freshmen and became "big brothers" and "sisters" to them. The class was reorganized with the following officers: President, Stephen Shemet; vice-president, Marie Thompson; secretary, Harold O'Donnell; treasurer, Georgia Mason. Dr. Edward E. Redcay, a new member of the faculty, was elected class adviser. Under his able guidance, the Junior Prom was the most successful dance of the year. A banquet and dance at the Bow and Arrow Inn closed our activities as a junior class. Before leaving for vacation we elected the following senior class officers: President, Stephen Shemet; vice-president, Marie Thompson; secretary, Marie Gagnier; treasurer, Georgia Mason.

At the beginning of our senior year Stephen Shemet was forced to resign when he accepted the office of president of the House of Delegates. Marie Thompson was elected president and Morgan Duffy, vice-president. Doctor Redcay was reelected class adviser. The Senior Reception and Farewell Banquet will end our activities as members of the P. S. N. S. student body.

Junior Class History

The effervescent spirit that carried the present junior class to an outstanding year as freshmen, again was in evidence as we entered school last September beginning our second year in Plattsburgh State Normal School.

In September the class election was held and the class chose the following officers as their representatives for the year:

President—ADRIAN WOOD

Vice-President—JAMES HUTCHINSON

Secretary—LORA PRATT

Treasurer—CHARLES TURCOTT

Faculty Adviser—MARGARET SIBLEY

Activities sponsored by the class have been both formal and informal. A theater party, a hamburger roast, and a combination banquet-game-festival, were the major informal activities of the year. The outstanding formal events of the year were a dinner-dance and the Junior Prom, the latter affair climaxing the school social calendar.

The members of the class have taken a very active and constructive part in the program of the school. The class is represented in every club and organization sponsored by the school. The members of the class have made a serious effort to raise their academic standings and also to create between faculty and students a more understanding and constructive relationship.

We wish to thank Miss Sibley for her guidance, friendship, and personal interest shown to her "juniors."

As juniors we have tried to live up to the true meaning of our class motto, "Give to the world the best you have, and the best will come back to you."

Junior Class Song

All through Normal's years;
Friends and pals forever,
Sharing all our joys and all our tears
Though our path's a hard one,
We will conquer yet,
Though we have our troubles here,
Plattsburgh Normal, never fear;
We will win, you bet!*

*Through our years at Normal
Silver and the blue,
They and our own motto,
They will both be there to see us through.
And at Plattsburgh Normal
May there ever shine
Scholarship and sportsmanship,
Taking them on all our trip,
Class of thirty-nine.*

Freshman Class History

September, 1937, saw 121 freshmen welcomed into the Plattsburgh Normal School. The first week was spent in wandering around the corridors and attending "get-together" parties given by the upperclassmen and the faculty.

Soon we saw our need to elect class officers to aid Dean Alice K. Lewis, adviser, in guiding our class life. The result showed Vincent Stanger, president; Leah Pratt, vice-president; Mary Alice Nolan, secretary; and William Morhous, treasurer. Later we were informed that we could have a voice in the councils of student government, so we elected Norma Rozon as our representative to the House of Delegates.

At one of our regular Freshman Forums we chose Red and White as our class color, and the American Beauty Rose, our flower.

On the night of February 4, 1938, our ball was held and marked down in our history as a success.

The second semester speedily passed, with sorrow sprinkled here and there at the thought of the departure of the seniors, with whom we had become so well acquainted.

The class of 1940 takes this opportunity of thanking each and every one who has encouraged us and helped make our year a success.

As another successful year draws to its close, our thoughts turn to memories of past associations with our Agonian sisters.

Shadows pass before our eyes. It is the beginning of the year. The Agos are welcoming the freshmen with a collegiate party at the camp of an alumna. The freshmen file into Alpha Kappa Phi University, after they pass the entrance exams. Their entire course is one of happy games and songs, and as soon as they have acquired the "welcomed" feeling meant for them, they are graduated.

Later in the year the Agos are giving a Showboat Party for the freshmen who are now "mshees." From the time they step aboard to the time they leave, there is busy, happy fun.

In February the pledges become real members of the sorority with a formal banquet and dance at the Cumberland.

At last our thoughts turn to the closing event of the year—the Senior Farewell Banquet, where we feel a pang of regret at the thought of parting with our senior sisters.

The visions fade. The year has passed, but the Agonian spirit lives on in the hearts of those who leave and those who remain.

As the curtain falls on another successful year, we look back on many happy associations in Delta Clio. September brought about a happy reunion of the Clios at a social meeting. Soon after we welcomed the freshmen at a "Bug House" party which opened the Clonian rush season. This was our first opportunity to get acquainted with the freshmen, in their jolliest moods.

In November the final rush party was given in "Monte Carlo" style. The pledge season was brought to a close by a banquet given at the Witherill Hotel when the new members were welcomed into our sorority. After the banquet, we joined the Alpha Delta Sorority at a dance in the gymnasium of the school.

The pledges were initiated into the sorority in March and a dinner was held in honor of the occasion.

Now as this year draws to a close in the history of Delta Clio, we sorrowfully realize that we must say "good-bye" to those with whom we have shared a friendship in Clio.

In September the Alpha Deltas opened another enjoyable year by a get-together in the form of a "Popcorn Party." This carefree evening was followed by many others, as well as many serious ones. Among the highlights of our social calendar during the first semester were the Hallowe'en party and the interfraternity tea dance.

The Hallowe'en party was given to officially open rush season. At this party we became acquainted with many girls who were interested in Alpha Delta, and in the period that followed many friendships were formed with these girls.

As a fitting climax to rush season we honored seventeen pledges with a banquet and dance. The rush season later closed with a formal initiation ceremony and a dance.

Soon the forty-six members of Alpha Delta will close another successful year at their annual farewell banquet. However, many of the Alpha Deltas are looking forward to more enjoyable years together.

Miss Berg, our capable adviser for many years, was able to spend but part of the year with us, because of leave of absence for study. We hope that she may be able to be with us next year. However, our other sisters in the faculty, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Chase, and Miss Hoxie, have cooperated in assuming the advisory responsibilities.

The faith that to leave some impression for good on your fellowmen when you are gone is the highest of heavens; the faith that to have had life and opportunity, to work and serve and laugh and love and be loved, is the golden reward in itself that makes all other rewards superfluous.

The fundamental philosophy of Delta Tau Chi is to provide for all members the difference between what we already have and what we must have, to enable us to live honorably, decently, hopefully and courageously. One of the aims of Delta Tau Chi is to set up standards of human conduct, to the end that those who sincerely strive to reach those standards may find the effort less difficult or discouraging.

From the beginning, and especially during the past year, the members of Delta Tau Chi have striven to sponsor school spirit and to aid in every activity that had for its end the betterment of the school.

Our faculty adviser and our honorary members are men rich in ideals of the highest nature, knowing the need of a better understanding between men. At the close of this year we thank these men for their untiring efforts in matters pertaining to our fraternity, and may we express the wish that as the years roll by, there will be evidenced a greater spirit of cooperation and mutual sympathy among the various organizations and the individual members of our school.

Interfraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council is a body composed of two representatives from each sorority and fraternity. Its purpose is to promote the interest of the organizations represented therein.

This year, rush was carried on from November 27 through December 10, ending on that evening with a formal dance sponsored by the Interfraternity Council.

Pledge was held February 18, followed by formal and informal initiation in March.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to these three men who have been such a great help to us in the production of the 1938 CARDINAL. Staff Purpose

The members of the staff of the 1938 CARDINAL have worked in a most efficient and cooperative manner. It has been their constant aim to produce in this year's CARDINAL an authentic record of our final year at Plattsburgh Normal School. While they could not hope to gather each small incident, which makes life at our school so vivid and alive, they have striven to gather a nucleus of important events for publication.

The Press Club

When we look backward to the first meeting of the Press Club last fall, the evolution of a jumble of ideas and heterogeneous material into a school publication worthy of its name, The Tower is quite amazing to those of us who worked so steadily toward this aim; seeing only each separate part, not the entire picture until the first issue was off the press. This number of The Tower was devoted mainly to commemorating the 150th anniversary of the writing of our Constitution. The success which this issue met can best be shown through the appreciations received by the Press Club from its readers and the praise given The Tower in an editorial appearing in a local newspaper soon after the first issue was published.

The officers of the Press Club, elected for one year, were: President, Anne Kessler; vice-president, Roma Hughes; secretary, Karoline Lange; house delegate, Charles Turcotte; alternate delegate, Lesley Barker; faculty adviser, H. Otis Noyes.

The editorial staff of The Tower, elected for one year, was: Editor-in-Chief, Charles Turcotte; literary editor, Marguerite Harris; managing editor, Anne Kessler; news editors, Frances Drumm and Marion Howard; exchange editor, Karoline Lange; feature editors, Roma Hughes and Lesley Barker; assistant news editor, Mary Slack.

Rural Club is the largest club in Plattsburgh State Normal School. It was organized in 1931 by Dr. A. G. Peterson and has grown with great rapidity in the few years of its existence.

This year Miss Patterson and Mr. Moyer of the faculty have acted as advisers to the club and have helped in many ways towards its successful operation.

Rural Club has sponsored both a social and an educational program. The social register has been filled with parties, bus trips and mountain climbs. In filling the educational requirement we have had many well-known speakers who have talked to the club on topics of common interest.

Secretary—NILAH TODD

Treasurer—LORA PRATT

Lamron has concluded probably the most successful year in its history, due largely to the commendable production of Arthur Wilmurt's "The Guest Room." This Broadway success of 1931 was presented on the Normal School stage on the evening of April 4, and three "road" presentations were given during the following week at Morrisonville, Peru, and Altona. This was Lamron's first three-act play. The Plattsburgh Daily Press in its review of the performance at Plattsburgh commented as follows: "In its first full-length play the Lamrons demonstrated that they are capable of giving a performance that was well liked and in no way inferior to more experienced and pretentious player groups."

The club also produced at assemblies the following one-acts: "Chinese Water Wheel" by Edna Strachan, "Robert Burns" and "The First Client" by Pereival Wilde, "Time Will Tell" by Conrad Seiler, and "A Heart Too Soon Made Glad" by Warren Beek. Some of the club members were also used in the cast and production staff of the Christmas Candle Light Pageant.

The Men's Club exists primarily to assist the boys in their personal and professional problems and consists of the men of the faculty and the boys of the school.

The club has also sponsored tennis, baseball, ping-pong, and basketball. The climaxing event of the basketball season was the winning of the Gold Medal championship by team A of the Young Men's Club. The club entered two teams (A and B) in the Gold Medal Tournament.

The Young Men's Club has enjoyed its fullest year of activity and good fellowship. We feel that the existence of the club is a benefit both to the young men and faculty in promoting a feeling of closer relationship and understanding.

Parnassian Club

In order to promote a taste for better recreational reading the Parnassian Club decided this year that its members should know more about the authors of the books read. Consequently we have been talking about our favorite authors and playing various delightful games which, besides promoting a better comradeship, have been a great help to us in learning more about books. We have even decided to try writing ourselves, and plans are under way for an anthology.

Other activities in which the club participated this year were a very successful "Book Week" display given in October and an assembly program. Cooperating with the English Department we also sponsored a tea dance.

The Parnassian Club looks back with much pleasure to its meetings this past year and anticipates many more such meetings in the future.

Astronomers' Club

OFFICERS

President—VINCENT STANGER

Vice-President—ETHEL SCHRYER

Secretary and Treasurer—STANLEY BEGOR

Faculty Adviser—MR. RUSTERHOLTZ

The Amateur Astronomers' Club was organized to give those interested the opportunity of furthering their knowledge and appreciation of their celestial surroundings or, in other words, helping them to interpret another portion of their "own back yards."

The Sky, which sets a high standard in presenting the latest news of the heavens, was adopted as the official club magazine. Everyone has found it most enlightening and helpful.

The club has carried on various activities. Actual observation and use of the telescope by individual members is an interesting feature of the club's program. Some time was spent in working out an original assembly program portraying the "splendor of the heavens." A number of in-service teachers have requested that the telescope be brought to their schools on nights of "good seeing" to help them in furthering the astronomical interests of their communities.

Home Economics Club

An enthusiastic group of girls composed of the entire Home Economics Department assembled in the Student Lounge one Friday afternoon in December to greet Miss Hazel P. Roach, field secretary of the American Home Economics Association. Miss Roach was in Plattsburgh for the purpose of forming a club, which is now affiliated with both the State and National Home Economics Associations.

The club has the following goals: The furthering of interest in home economics in Plattsburgh State Normal and in the community, the providing of opportunity for additional interests beyond the classroom, the developing of personality, cooperation, leadership, self-reliance, initiative, social poise, and professional interest, and the promoting of friendship and enjoyable social contacts.

The club meets twice a month, holding one business and one social meeting. The program this year was centered in a study and promotion of hobbies.

Our first big social event was the Easter tea, which was followed by an assembly program and a Wednesday noon radio broadcast.

Forming the club and carrying out these activities have given us a good start; we hope that in the future the club will grow both in numbers and in worth.

Delta Nu

Delta Nu, like its predecessor the 'Toasters' Club, is a group whose members meet to improve their ability in public speaking. It is the formal laboratory period of the public speaking class. Meetings are held every Tuesday noon at which time, under the direction of a chairman, prepared and impromptu speeches of all kinds are given by the members.

With the purpose broadened to include all types of speeches as well as after-dinner speeches, it was felt that a new name should be chosen. Delta Nu, which being liberally translated means Sons of Demosthenes, was chosen.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Noyes the club has been a source of profit and pleasure for all its members.

Mixed Chorus

The Mixed Chorus was organized in 1926 under the direction of Mr. Lyndon R. Street for the purpose of furthering the musical knowledge and appreciation of our students. The organization met with instant success. It has developed into an integral part of our school's activities. Voices are carefully chosen for quality of tone and blending possibilities.

The Mixed Chorus devotes much of its time to the serious study of representative types of the best choral literature, including that of contemporary composers.

Valuable service is rendered by our chorus during Christmas week, Commencement week, music supervisor's "Visitation day" and National Music week. Several musical programs have been presented for assemblies and during the regular scheduled Wednesday noon broadcasts from the stage of our auditorium.

Under the guidance of Mr. Street, the chorus has made many trips into adjoining communities and rendered concerts in company with the other musical organizations of the Normal School. After returning from Lake Placid, May 21, our chorus will have traveled over 1,000 miles during this year and probably will have completed the most successful season since its organization.

Orchestra

The Plattsburgh State Normal School Orchestra is not only one of the largest but has had one of the most successful years in its history. Under the direction of Mr. Lyndon R. Street, who has served as director of music of the Normal School since 1925, the Orchestra is organized for the purpose of encouraging performance among students with instrumental ability. It also stimulates the student body in the appreciation of the highest type of orchestra music. It gives the students the opportunity of ensemble experience and practical orchestral playing. It rehearses and performs standard orchestra literature and cooperates with the choral groups of the Normal School.

From the standpoint of the student, the most important feature, perhaps, is the various trips throughout northern New York communities where concerts are given. Radio programs have recently been added to the activities.

From the Orchestra, we have the Trumpet Trio, the Saxophone Quartet, and the Trumpet Quartet. The aim of these various student ensembles, as is true with the Ladies' Octet of the Mixed Chorus and Girls' Glee Club, is to cultivate and promote artistic group singing and playing.

The Girls' Glee Club has another successful year to its credit under the capable direction of Mr. Lyndon R. Street. Not only has the Glee Club done three-part singing, as in former years, but this year four-part singing predominated. Our Glee Club this year is said to be the finest in many years. Serious study has been devoted to the best musical literature for women's voices.

The Girls' Glee Club assisted the other music organizations of the school in bringing to Plattsburgh the internationally famous Westminster Chorus.

The first semester's work was given over to preparation for the spring concert tours, for National Music Week, and for the Wednesday noon broadcasts.

The year ended with the Glee Club participating in the annual National Music Week Festival, April 29 to May 3, held at our Normal School, and the club's final get-together at the end of the semester.

Basketball

The Plattsburgh State Normal School 1937-38 basketball season was the most successful season ever attempted, despite the fact that the number of losses equalled the number of victories. With the elevation of the schedule to a collegiate standard, basketball has gained interest and support hitherto unsurpassed.

The twenty-game schedule, lasting through three months of strenuous playing against the leading normal schools and colleges of Vermont and New York State gave to the Plattsburgh rooters some of the best college basketball ever witnessed in this vicinity.

Realizing that a successful season is not measured by victories alone the team gave considerable thought to the educational outcomes from participation in this athletic program. The attitudes, appreciations, understandings, and abilities to be gained from such a program were paramount goals.

No clear-cut discrimination was ever made between the varsity and junior varsity players. A cooperative effort determined by the apparent ability of the individual players gave to the squad a fluctuating and flexible system which benefited both the individuals and teams.

To Doctor Redcay, the coach, the squad owes a debt of gratitude for his untiring efforts in building up the team in the face of continual setbacks.

The Demonstration School

The Demonstration School plays an important part in the development of teachers at Plattsburgh Normal School. It is essential to the school because it furnishes the students with a medium through which they can practice the methods and the techniques which are taught them in the Normal School. It also affords the faculty an opportunity to give demonstration lessons of various types and it keeps them in constant contact with the problems of little children so that their methods never become those of another generation but are always up to date.

Freshmen at Plattsburgh Normal School are introduced to the Demonstration School very early and are encouraged to go there, in their spare time, to observe, to form opinions, and to develop habits which will make them better teachers when they graduate. In short, the Demonstration School is a connecting link between the work in the Normal School and the work in the field and is one of the most important departments of our entire system.

Candlelight Service

Our Christmas Candlelight Service was presented by the musical and dramatic organizations under the direction of Miss Pope, Mr. Harman, and Mr. Street.

The impressive program was initiated and concluded by the candle-bearers in stately procession. The new Hammond organ added to the atmosphere of devotion.

On the stage the story of the Nativity was unfolded in a series of pantomimes and tableaux by a cast made up of Lamron members and senior drama students, all in perfect harmony with the numbers of Joseph Clokey's beautiful cantata "The Child Jesus," sung by the Normal School Mixed Chorus from the balcony of the auditorium.

Lora Pratt, '39, who received much favorable comment last year in the part of Mary, enacted the rôle again, her "Annunciation" and "Lullaby" numbers being perhaps the most impressive points of the service. Barbara Johnson, '41, accompanied "Mary's Lullaby" on the harp and also rendered "Silent Night" as the curtains slowly closed on the Star and Manger scene.

The Normal School's Candle Light Pageant is fast becoming a community tradition, a capacity audience again filling the spacious auditorium and bearing eloquent testimony to the impressive occasion.

Co-operative Concerts

The Plattsburgh Co-operative Concert and Lecture Association, a three-year-old organization, was formed and sponsored by a committee composed of interested members of the Normal School and citizens of the community. In the belief that good music is one of the great factors in the advancement of culture in any community, this Association has adopted as its main purpose the presentation of the finest programs available by those generally recognized as the best among the world's concert and operatic artists.

The Plattsburgh Co-operative Concert and Lecture Association has been immensely popular in Plattsburgh and the surrounding communities as an average membership of nine hundred people for the past three years would indicate. This membership includes the entire student body of the Normal School, as the House of Delegates, the student governing body, has voted each year to contribute a certain amount for the support of these programs.

The following list of attractions for the 1937-38 season exemplifies the high type of entertainment which this Association brings to the community each year:

Ionian Singers	November	1
Dilling-Hubert (Harpist, Cellist)	February	3
Igor Gorin (Baritone).....	March	2
George Slocombe (Lecturer).....	March	24
Malcolm and Godden (Two-piano Recital).....	April	1

The Plattsburg Little Theatre

The Plattsburgh Little Theatre season of 1937-38 was, as it has been for several years, incorporated into the entertainment program available to Normal School students. The first production, Frederick Jackson's comedy, "The Ghost Flies South," was presented January 10, 1938. It proved especially interesting to Normal students because of the appearance of Nilah Todd '39 in the cast. Miss Todd has been one of the active members of the Lamron Club, and in the rôle of "Diana Meredith," supporting ingenue, gave an excellent performance.

The guest attraction, January 24, Sophocles' "Electra," presented by the Bennington Theatre Studio of Bennington College, Vermont, proved exceptionally interesting to senior drama students. The production was staged in a highly impressive manner, and the acting of the players was both finished and effective. "Electra" proved to be a most exceptional and educational offering.

The English farce, "Springtime for Henry," by Benn Levy, was presented February 28, under the direction of John W. Moore. Somewhat "spotty" in holding to the consistency of the British atmosphere, the play as a whole was made enjoyable by the characterizations of Francis Dossert and Isabel Crystal which were exceptionally well done.

At the time this is written, the fourth and final number on the Little Theatre program is in rehearsal for presentation in early May.

National Music Week

The 1938 observance of National Music Week at Plattsburgh State Normal School began Friday, April 29, and ended with a combined instrumental and vocal concert Tuesday evening, May 3.

The observance this year coincided with the one hundredth anniversary of the introduction of music into the public schools of this country, by Lowell Mason, in Boston, Massachusetts, and paid tribute to the pioneer work of this New England educator.

Eight bands, nine orchestras, twelve church choirs, twenty-four mixed choruses, six junior high school choruses, and ten girls' glee clubs, numbering over 2,500 singers and players participated.

Dr. J. Warren Erb, director of music of Lafayette College and New York University and Hon. J. J. Gagnier, director of the famous Canadian Grenadier Guards Band and the Montreal Symphony Orchestra served as guest conductors. Mrs. Samuel Packer of the Lake Placid Club served as soloist.

Communities represented at the Festival were: Dannemora, Peru, Schroon Lake, Altona, Chateaugay, Rouses Point, Champlain, Morrisonville, Cadyville, AuSable Forks, Mooers, Lake Placid, Elizabethtown, Keeseville, Keene Valley, Bloomingdale, Willsboro, Essex, Lyon Mountain, Westport, Olmstedville, Port Henry, Tupper Lake, Mineville, and Our Lady of Victory, St. Johns, D'Yonville Academy, Mount Assumption Institute, Plattsburgh High School, and the Normal School.

THE PROGRAM

Friday, April 29, Band and Orchestra Day. Dr. J. J. Gagnier, Guest Conductor. 500 players.
Saturday, April 30, Mixed Chorus and Girls' Glee Club Day. Dr. J. Warren Erb, Guest Conductor.
